

Welcome to Eastgate SDA Church!

A message from Guest Speaker; Paul Opp

I remember the night I met her begging on the sidewalk. She seemed so out of place in front of the five-star hotel. Behind her, the indoor fountain and glass elevator kept time with the rich tourists who came and went. The lobby window that she leaned against, though only a quarter-inch thick put miles of distance between those inside and those who lived their life on the sidewalk. Her two front teeth were missing, and her thin blouse and polyester skirt, devoid of color, were transparent in places. You couldn't help but notice the soccer-ball-size protrusion stretching the failing threads to the end of their elasticity. A baby, another mouth to feed, would make life more difficult on so many levels.

As we poured out of the bus, she stood up and stepped away from the window. The waterfall of people soon engulfed her and the excitement of the volunteers, laughter of friends, and shopping strategies drowned the soft pleas for assistance. The final instructions were shouted above the chatter of the group, return-to-the-bus times repeated, and the crowd evaporated into the plaza. I watched Clara stand alone with her outstretched arm, empty hand, and unborn child. It was at that moment a friendship began.

Eight years later ... the rain was pounding, which is typical for this time of year. It was later than we usually eat in town but the wood-fired Pizza was worth facing the elements, so there we were ... (story continues on page.3)

Paul Opp will present a message of mission, caring and sharing. Join us to hear of the results of the People of Peru Project. For a Biography about Paul, please see page 4 of this newsletter.

On another note, COVID is strengthening in our valley again so remember we provide masks for all who desire them. Please stay home and join in online if you have any hint of illness. Thanks for showing your love and care through these steps.

May you be blessed with the special Sabbath rest!

June 4, 2022 — Local Church Budget

Perhaps the most obvious need addressed in My Personal Giving Plan is the local church

Like every family, the local church family has financial obligations to meet. Some are easy to see like power and heat, but many are not so obvious: children's magazines, Sabbath School Bible study guides, teaching supplies, staff salaries, cleaning services, church school operating expenses, property insurance, worthy student fund, and community outreach. These are but a few of the costs that must be met month after month as the local church seeks to be a light in the community. Because these expenses are constant, My Personal Giving Plan recommends that 3-5% of one's income be set aside for the local church budget. This systematic giving ensures that all share both in the blessings and the responsibilities of the local congregation.

The North American Division encourages the use of the “My Personal Giving Plan.” This plan was developed as a guideline to assist members in systematic giving. The plan suggests that, in addition to returning 10% of a member’s personal income as tithe, certain percentages may be dedicated as offerings to three main categories:

- Local Church Budget: 3-5%
- Conference Advance: 1-2%
(Education, evangelism, VBS, summer camps, and union magazines)
- World Budget: 1-3%

*Visit www.personalgivingplan.com to see a more extensive breakdown for each category.

The drive into the town square was faster than usual. With the torrential downpour, the streets were empty. When we did pass a three-wheeled motorcar taxi or drenched motorcyclist, our truck shot a lethal spray of water that could dismount an unsuspecting driver. Parking was easy as the curbs were bare, but the cascading water from the rooftops made the final stopping place critical. Finally, there was a twenty-foot section of curb without a geyser. Stop. Lock the doors and sprint to the safety of the awning. Others had gathered to stay dry creating a gauntlet from the truck to the door of the eatery. I was crossing the threshold when a little voice pierced the noise of the pounding rain.

“Tio Paul, Tio Paul.” I turned to see who was calling me “uncle” and there she was, the little girl who stole my heart nearly eight years ago. She literally jumped into my arms as I asked where her mother was. She pointed down the sidewalk, close to the open kitchen windows. Clara stood huddled between the decorative flower pots, her five-year-old, Sonia, clinging to her neck. The smell of oven-baked pizza was overpowering even as the storm pounded the street only a few yards away.

All three were soaked to the skin. The wind was blowing the rain horizontally, and when I touched Clara's arm I was shocked at how cold she was. She grinned at me when I commented about her condition. Her remaining teeth were noticeably chattering when she tried to explain how she got caught in the rain, twenty minutes from home, late at night, with both her girls.

We talked for a minute and Adriana just hung on to my waist and looked up. When the conversation slowed, I hugged her and told her how much I had missed her while I was in the States. She just smiled and her huge dimples took their customary position, and then her eyes got shy.

"I am so hungry," she said, "We haven't eaten since this morning". When I asked her where she would like to eat, she pointed to the restaurant where my friends were already seated. Clara protested saying that it was much too expensive compared to eating on the street, but frankly, my concern was the wind and rain and not the price of the meal. Clara would have been satisfied to wait outside for our leftovers but tonight would be special. We would eat as friends ... as a family.

I gave a silent nod and Adriana was three steps ahead of me. Clara waited until I insisted we go in, and then the stares began. Local people with money were surprised to see the "street people" occupy our table. Tourists, though curious, understood.

I have known this little family since before the girls were born. Clara, once a beggar on the street, using her children as props, now sells fruit. Adriana has thrived on education. Sonia will start school next year and our organization will make sure she also has the uniforms, books, backpack, and documents that are necessary for free education.

When Adriana was burning up with fever, they came to us. When she got separated from her mom during a massive holiday event, where did they find each other? People of Peru Project Headquarters. When a drunken taxi driver crashed into Clara's vending cart, who did she turn to for advice and assistance? When Sonia was dehydrated from days of vomiting and diarrhea, and the government's free medical help wasn't available, who was there? When Clara needed someplace to leave her sick baby so she could continue to work, our home was her infirmary.

For eight years we have been here for this little family and hundreds more like them. With a simple nod of the head, Adriana's child-like faith was rewarded. She was confident that she would never be left hungry in the wind and the rain. This family's interaction with visiting doctors and nurses, dentists and teachers, pastors and social workers has built trust in the way God works through his people. When Adriana is at our house watching animated bible stories, she finishes the plot before the DVD ends. Her life is profoundly different because of the opportunities created by divine appointments.

As we finished our meal in a warm café, our spirits soared as we reviewed the myriad of special moments that make us family. When Sonia and Adriana pushed away from the table their hugs were all I needed.

It is good to know that each of us can be exactly where God needs us to be. Even in a pizza place in the Amazon Jungles of Peru.

Mother’s Room ~ Small Child Space for Fathers

Our Mother’s Room is a space for new mothers where they can care for the needs of their infants and toddlers and still be able to engage with and follow along with the worship process in the main sanctuary. Please do not leave children there unsupervised.

Fathers who may need to take their turn at caring for their young ones should be aware of a multi-use space in what we call our library. There are a couple of rocking chairs for calming little ones who may need to be snuggled. This room is also a transition room where training of little ones can take place as needed. This room will continue to be a multi-function room where committees and small groups can meet during the week and during Sabbath school time.

Please bring your own quiet toys for your child.

Two Services to return to Eastgate SDA Church ~ Moved to August 6, 2022

At the April church board a discussion focused on our increased church attendance and the possible need for implementing a second church service. A statement was issued that we would start this the first weekend of June. However, after further review and in-put from ministry leaders, a small steering committee for the addition of a second service at Eastgate church has decided to postpone the start date to the first Sabbath in August – August 6. This seems to make sense in several ways:

- It will give us more time to prepare all the details that this change requires.
- It will accommodate the likely dip in summer attendance.
- It will still allow for a few weeks of double services before attendance increases when school resumes at the end of August. This change of date will allow some very specific time of preparation.

Preliminary discussion has suggested a format of Early Service – Sabbath School – Second Service. This will require more staff on the part of Deacons and Deaconesses. Additional Greeters will be needed so individuals are not on their feet throughout the full morning. Details remain to yet be worked out, so if you would be interested in joining a team to help support this transition, please speak with the team leaders for Greeters, Deacons, Deaconesses, A/V, an Elder or the Pastor.
